S3600i Flash Loader V14 For Product63 Is there any way to convert this into a vbs/batch file? I'm on a Mac, but I will be able to do the rest on a Windows PC if necessary. A: Google the command hexdump and find an answer: hexdump -C file.zip The output will be a hex dump of all the bytes in a zip file, with hex representation of each character. Q: How can i insert string from a loop into a variable I have a script that grabs a string from a for loop that contains values separated by commas and inserts them into a single variable. How do I do this? Example string looks like this: "Symmetry,Plane,Fibre" Now I want to insert all of these values into the variable $content, so it looks like this: $content = "Symmetry,Plane,Fibre" This is my code: $content = $_GET['output'] if (empty($content)) { echo 'This script is not running at all.'; exit; } elseif ($content[count($content) - 1] == '') { $content = substr($content,0,-1); } $content = explode(',',$content); $output = ''; foreach ($content as $value) { $output.= $value. ','; } if (empty($output)) { $output = '0,'; } So the results are looking like this: "Symmetry,Plane,Fibre,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0" I'm trying to make sure this doesn't have any space or, after the last data. When I try to run my script the output looks like this: $output = 0,0,0,0,
