What's new in Elden Ring:

----- Today we are sharing Dr-Mos: The First Movie Review! Last year, Dr. Alvarez spearheaded the plan to take the biggest puzzle of the nineties and turn it into a Mario Game. After raising an estimated $3.8 million on Kickstarter, Team Yuuzi at NCSOFT picked up the task to bring you its predecessor. Dr. Mos has followed through, and the result is a 2.5D action game with a plot incorporating elements of both the Dr. Mario and Mario Road series. We were told back in October that we'd be taking a look at the game in a couple of weeks. After spending some time with it last month, we've played through the majority of the game twice through and have a feeling in our bones that Dr-Mos is pretty special. We had some questions for NCSOFT about the title as well, so let's get started. ----- The latest PlayStation Vita / PlayStation 3 dungeon-crawl RPG, Odagiri: The Mosaic of Time and Space, is now confirmed to launch in the US with a demo on March 8th, followed by a retail edition on May 26th. Here's the line-up of 3DS / PlayStation Vita / PS4 versions of the game today: ----- Today we're happy to bring you an interview with Garlic and Claude Pelizaeus, two of the three people behind the upcoming action/RPG Pimp. Pimp: Bros About To Bounce is a sprawling 3D world that's been beaten to death by huge monsters. It's up to you, the Bros, to tap into the power of special bounce pads to safely navigate insane environments. As players, you'll bounce using three different pairs of bouncing pads that fit into a platformer-style map. There's also an entire arsenal of weapons: poke, trash, magic, and much more. ----- Nintendo DS owners everywhere can and should be excited about the release of the Pokémon Pinball DS title Pocket Monsters Pinball. Players must perform the pinball style shots using their Pokémon near the pinball style targets to complete levels to acquire coins, which can then be used to buy new ball packs for even more greatness. The game is filled with 25 puzzles and all 150 (!) of the generation 1 Pokémon. Also, you can create your own pinball leaderboards to see who is leading the pack. So, don't get your hopes up too high on the game coming to 3
